Tranel Speaks with Local Republicans

Cuba City, WI - Farmer and small business owner Travis Tranel recently had the opportunity to address local Republicans at the annual Grant County Lincoln Day Dinner. Tranel is seeking to be the next representative of the 49th Assembly District. He must first win a 3 person Republican Primary on September 9th in order to challenge current State Representative Phil Garthwaite in the November general election.

Tranel told those gathered that he was thankful for those who have already come forward to support his campaign. "I am truly humbled by the support we have received," Tranel said. He said the reason people are responding to the campaign's message is because they believe in the things the campaign believes in. "The citizens of this area believe in lower taxes, in affordable and accessible health care, in quality education, and in strong family values," Tranel said. "We are committed to working hard to spread that message and to return honest and professional representation to the people of Southwest Wisconsin," Tranel concluded.

At the Dinner Kathy Kopp made it known that she was withdrawing from the race. Tranel said of Kopp's decision, "I am thankful to Kathy for everything that she brought to this race. She was a quality candidate who had many positive traits." Tranel went on to say, "I fully support her decision to concentrate on her position as the director of the Platteville Area Chamber of Commerce. She does a great job there and I am sure she will continue to do so. I have nothing but respect for Kathy."
